Project: Holiday Envelope for Van Winkle Law Firm

Van Winkle wanted a special envelope for their holiday card, but didn't have the time for a converted envelope.

We did this envelope two color with bleed. The result is a snappy, eye-catching envelope, and the bleed adds a high-end look to the project. This technique gains the efficiency of a #10, but the appeal of something more custom.

Fine Print: It's not ideal for bulk mailing. It would be better to add the bleed image to the left side of the envelope, to allow room for postal barcodes and addressing.
